LINING 'EM OUT

Josh Devore has been with New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Cincinnati, not to mention a few minor league clubs in his salad days. What you call an all-around player.

It is getting to be a habit with Veach, of Detroit, to make a base hit when Sam Crawford is passed purposely to give the pitchers a chance at Veach. A way out of this for pitchers would be to strike out Crawford, then pass Veach.

Mr. Anderson, a Federal umpire, started a fight because the Indianapolis fans threw bottles at him. "Can't the man take a joke?" queries the ribald New York Sun.

Penny Kauff, the demon fielder and slinger of the Feds, has been signed for three years by the Indianapolis Feds. Cincinnati and New York American Giants have been angling for the star of next year.

An imaginative and probably romantic baseball writer says that all the Caribbees and all the other Indians in the United States, for that matter, are sore at Chief Johnson for breaking his word and becoming a contract jumper. They are represented as shuddering at the idea of a real, honest-to-goodness Indian breaking anything so sacred as his word. Well, well, well.

Jack Barry, the Athletics' shortstop, never fielded better than this year, at he is not enjoying a hitting slump. Notice the "not," please. He has the slump, but he is not enjoying it. Funny thing, too. He used to be a terror to left-hand pitchers, and he's had a chance to meet more than usual.

Freddie Welsh is planning to write a history of his life, but we see by certain legal statutes that reading it isn't compulsory. Our idea of nothing to feel about or ponder over is Freddie Welsh's life.

Dave Robertson, the slugging Giant recruit, says that the best method to pursue in becoming a demon cluster is to pick one or, and bust it. Quite so, Dave, quite so. But this business of picking one out, Dave—what's the recipe for that?

Bill Brennan, who umpired behind Mordecai Brown when he held the Cubs to four hits recently, says the Miser had all the stuff he ever possessed on the ball. Brennan is qualified to speak, for he umpired behind Brown in the National league and has seen him when he was the pride of the Cubs. "You should have seen those curves and drops break," said Brennan. "I never saw him look any better. And he had fair speed, too."

If you've noticed closely you've noticed that the organized magnates are not asking wagers these days with the frequency of yore. Reason? Prexy Gilmore, at the opposition, has been waving so much of the green and yellow stuff. "Waving" has put a crimp in "wagering."

The Federal league folks who are aiming to please the fans might make a master stroke if they introduced free score cards at their parks. The idea of paying for score cards at the ball games appeals to most fans in the nature of a holdup. Why should the fans be compelled to pay for score cards? Why aren't they given away free the same as theater programs?

Konetchy, Mowrey and Harmon were pleased when they were traded to Pittsburgh by Huggins, of the Cardinals. They were going from a tailender to a pennant winner. When the Pirates started tearing through the league they were even gladder. But now they are sad.

But if Hickey and Huggins can keep their clubs up in the race till the finish, it will be a different story. If both teams finish in the first division, St. Louis expects to do better than Chicago in a city series. The club figure to pack the park at every game and the guess as to the winner's end is about $1,500 a play-off.

Mr. Connie Mack has the best hitting clean-up pair in the American league. Eddie Collins and Frank Baker hit, as a combination, 328, as against the 326 of the Tiger duo of Cobb and Crawford. They lead despite the fact that Cobb, individually, is hitting better than Baker and Crawford is hitting better than Collins. The cause of this seeming contradiction is the few games in which Tyne has participated.

O. R. E.'S TO MEET
GIBSON MINERS
NEXT SUNDAY

The O. R. E. team will play the Gibson Miners at Traciton park next Sunday afternoon. The Gibson players are said to be a strong aggregation. They claim the championship of New Mexico and eastern Arizona. They make no bones about saying that they are coming here to dispose of the O. R. E.'s so that there will remain no team to dispute that title claim.

The game will start at 3 o'clock. It has more than a little promise of being the best contest of the season so far.

O. R. E. JUNIORS
TAME OLD TOWN
TIGERS, 6 TO 5

The conquering O. R. E. Juniors took the Old Town Tigers into camp today to the tune of 6 to 5. It was a red-hot game, and marked the eighth victory for the O. R. E. Juniors. They have lost only two games so far this season. The batteries this morning were: O. R. E. Juniors, Pablo Romero and Doyle, Garcia; Tigers, Alencio and Cruise, Chavez. The O. R. E. Juniors are managed by Paul Harper. He is trying to make it the crack junior nine of the state.

LIPTON'S CHALLENGER
SAILS FROM BERMUDA

New York, Aug. 14.—Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger Shamrock IV, with which he expected, prior to the declaration of war between Germany and England, to race for the America's cup this fall, left Bermuda at noon yesterday on the last leg of her trans-Atlantic voyage. She is expected to arrive here Sunday.

Advices announcing the Shamrock's departure were received today by the company which will place her in trim for racing.

BELEN BEES WILL BE SNAPPED BY FAIR MOVIE MAN

A. E. Kohler, Jr., publicity director for the New Mexico Board of Managers of the San Diego fair, went to Belen today to direct the taking of moving pictures of honey-making. Every step in the production and marketing of honey will be shown. The bees swarming into hives and at work, the gathering of the honey and the other steps in the industry will be pictured for the benefit of visitors to the New Mexico building at the fair.

Pictures will also be taken at the big flour mill, the largest in the state.

Greece Stops Wireless.
New York, Aug. 14.—Greece has suspended the use of wireless telegraphy by ships in her territorial waters, according to an announcement made today by the Commercial Cable company.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

as temporary chairman, and without room. He announced Mr. Montoya waiting for the convention to ratify the selection of the central committee gracefully waved Mr. Montoya into the chair.

Instantly the big guns of the enemy were brought into action with deadly effect. Judge Edward A. Mann sprang to his feet and his big voice dominating the crowded room, nominated M. E. Hickey for temporary chairman and moved the vote be taken. Mr. Romero, having vacated the chair in favor of Mr. Montoya, took no notice of Judge Mann. Apparently he did not see him. There was pandemonium—to put it mildly. What Sherman called war broke loose at all points of the compass. It was some row.

Finally Judge Mann put the motion for Mr. Hickey's nomination himself. He declared it carried; and it looked as if a majority of the convention voted for it, although there was no count possible.

Mr. Hickey being declared temporary chairman, looked for a chair and Mr. Montoya, occupying THE chair, took another on another platform on the other side of the room.

The Andrews delegates followed the chairman and assembled in what was as near an orderly convention as could be had with another convention in full working order in the next row of chairs.

For a time the Romero-Baca delegates appeared confused by the desertion, but after half an hour went forward with their organization. The convention over which Mr. Hickey presided seemed better organized than that over which Mr. Montoya ruled. It went at its business methodically and completed it before noon.

Judge Mann, Mr. Montoya and Lauriano Chavez, a man from the west side of the river, were nominated for the legislature, and the following delegates were elected to the Santa Fe convention, being instructed for W. H. Andrews for the nomination first, last and all the time.

George R. Craig, W. H. Andrews, E. A. Davis, Frank A. Hubbell, Gabriel Sanchez, Demetrio Sanchez, E. A. Mann, J. T. Herrera, Procopio Armijo, Louis Hild, W. H. Gillenwater, P. Hanley, M. E. Hickey, C. L. Berndson, Thomas Hughes, Al Thelin, Justiano Gutierrez, Nicanor Martinez, Nestor Montoya, N. G. Campbell.

The central committee was named as follows:

Nicholas Ortega, Procopio Armijo, Gerardo Pacheco, Nicanor Martinez, Ambrosio Sanchez, Mariano Chavez, Justiano Gutierrez, Salvador Armijo, Calistano Alderete, M. F. Chavez, George Hubbell. They met at the Newburn Hotel.

A FEW STEPS NOW

See, R. W. Hopkins, Thomas R. Hanson, George Craig, J. T. Herrera, P. A. Hubbell, John Burdette, Antonio Gutierrez, W. H. Gillenwater, Antonio Jose Garcia.

The resolutions adopted were a denunciation of the Democratic party, its methods and policies, national state and local; a declaration for "reasonable county salaries"; just taxation; and against the 13 road tax, and a long statement of the achievements and virtues of W. H. Andrews. The convention, after adopting these, adjourned.

The Romero-Baca Convention. In the meantime the Romero-Baca convention perfected its organization and proceeded to business, although with a deliberation which carried its sessions late into the afternoon. Modesto C. Ortiz, Nestor Montoya and John W. Wilson are nominated for the legislature and the following delegates were elected to Santa Fe, instructed for Elfege Baca, first, last and all the time:

Jesus Romero, Elfege Baca, Jesus M. Sandoval, Modesto C. Ortiz, L. G. Pina, Tomas Gurule, Charles Chadwick, John W. Wilson, Felipe Armijo, Arthur C. Culver, Frank Armas, Blas Sandoval, Alfredo Sandoval, Meliton Cordova, Eladio Sanchez, Sig Grunsfeld, C. Scanlan, Nestor Montoya, D. M. Perez, Eladio Barola.

The Romero-Baca central committee remains the same except for the considerable number of vacancies officially declared by the resolution quoted above, and which are to be filled by Sheriff Romero.

Thus ended the first day of the greatest battle ever waged among the belligerent Republicans of Imperial Bernalillo county. The emergency hospitals are full of dead and wounded and the Red Cross has given up in despair—and the war, so the captains of both sides declare, has just begun.

The anti-Romero-Baca men declare Sheriff Romero and his forces are to be finally and eternally eliminated in local politics. The Romero-Baca men say Sheriff Romero has the votes and they will stand around awhile and see.

It promises to continue to be quite a spectacular little fight.

CATRON HOME-POD IS BOILING IN SANTA FE

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 14.—United States Senator Thomas Benton Catron returned home yesterday, having been able to separate himself from his arduous duties in the senate long enough to come out and see what is happening in New Mexico politics and especially in Santa Fe county. The senator expects to be invited to preside as temporary chairman in the state convention here a week from Monday, and to deliver the keynote speech. Keynote speeches are the senator's long suit; and when he gets going he usually hands out a bunch of both keys and notes. The conditions in standpat Republican circles in this county have been considerably mixed and there is busy stirring of the pot today, the senator using the spoon vigorously in an effort to straighten out things for the county convention.

MORA COUNTY INSTRUCTS FOR R. C. HERNANDEZ

The first Republican delegation pledged against W. H. Andrews is that of Mora county, where the Republican county convention was held yesterday. The delegates to the state convention were instructed to vote for R. C. Hernandez as the nominee for congress. Hernandez is from Rio Arriba county and will have his home county delegation and probably that of Taos. He may get Santa Fe county unless Senator Catron is able to get the boys lined up for his bosom friend and political side partner, W. H. Andrews.

Alfredo Lucero of Chacon and Anastacio Medina of Wagon Mound are Mora county's legislative nominees.

VALENCIA COUNTY GOES WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS

The Republican county convention at Los Lunas yesterday sent an un-instructed delegation to Santa Fe. It had been expected that this convention would go for Andrews and send him an instructed delegation, but there was objection when the instructing time came. A majority of the delegates, however, are understood to favor Andrews for the nomination.

Harry P. Owen was endorsed for the nomination for district attorney, and Teofilo Chavez and Narciso Frances were nominated for the legislature.

THREE MEN KILLED UNDER WALL OF A BURNING BUILDING

Anna, Ill., Aug. 14.—Three men were killed at Dongola, Ill., near here today when the wall of a burning building fell on them.

The fire destroyed half the business section of the town. Among the buildings burned were the postoffice, the First National bank, the Odd Fellows hall, five stores and a restaurant.

The loss is estimated at $200,000.
